LILIES FOR SPRING PLANTING

For the first time in 12 years we are offering lily bulbs for spring planting, thanks to new winter storage methods developed by the Ornamentals Section of the U. S. Dept. of Agric. You can plant up to May 15th, and by such late planting delay bloom until late July, August and September.

To encourage Spring planting we are reducing prices on most of the following select group of lilies. Prices will be higher for many of these varieties in our 1962-63 Catalogue which you will receive later.

and CAMELLIAS FOR JUNE PLANTING

When our cold-resistant camellias bloom for you, you will experience one of the greatest delights of the gardener!

Here is a group of C. japonica selected by the late Prof. P. W. Zimmerman of the Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research for their winter hardiness:

CHANDLERI ELEGANS	Full, large double pink	6-12"	$3.50
DIXIE	Full double light pink	6-12"	$2.00
KUMASAKA	Large double pink	6-12"	$3.50
PAGE	Semi-double pink	6-12"	$2.00

"Z" HYBRIDS A group of japonica hybrids developed by Dr. Zimmerman himself, with lovely red or pink double flowers and very dark, glossy green foliage. Some of his original "Z" test plants are flourishing in Westchester gardens north of New York City without special protection. 6-12" $12.50; 12-18" $15.00

C. OLEIFERA Single, fluted, white, 6-12" $1.95. Last year we offered this new Chinese species which takes 6° below in its stride for June, 1962, delivery. Customers who placed advance orders at $3.95 per 6-12" plant will receive two plants for their remittance. This reduction is made possible by our obtaining access to ample propagation material.

One of our hardy Camellias out doors in Westchester County.
